New Mexico Conservation District Employees (NMCDE)

Mission and Purpose of the NMCDE:

- To strengthen local soil and water conservation districts of the State of New Mexico.
- To provide assistance and information to conservation districts, their governing boards, and their employees.
- To provide a system of communication whereby district employees may effectively exchange information and ideas which will result in better coordination and effectiveness of district programs throughout the State of New Mexico.
- To foster ethical practices and encourage excellence in the fulfillment of duties of district employees, promote professional improvement, instill pride, and encourage dedicated service to employers.
- To establish and support an educational training program for all district employees.
- To provide input into the activities of conservation partners and other cooperative entities and to increase the contribution of conservation districts and their programs.
- To encourage and maintain a stable and harmonious working relationship between districts, employees, supervisors, and cooperating agencies.

Benefits of Membership:

- Attend professional development trainings with your colleagues from around the state
- Qualify for a once-per-year $150 training stipend
- Vote on future NMCDE activities
- Network with the best people around!

Cost of Membership:

- Only $10 for conservation districts employees and technical service providers to receive all the above benefits
- Partners and Supervisors can also become associate (non-voting) members and support the employees association for only $5.

Join today to support the Conservation Districts of New Mexico and help us build a successful organization!
